

I am STRONGLY opposed to the use of cellphones on airplanes. I have no interest in having to listen to a loud one-sided conversation by annoying passengers on airplanes. I do believe that the level of tension on the plane would be markedly increased by the use of cellphones. Passengers would first be complaining to the stewards/stewardess', and would, undoubtedly, resort to directly complaining to the passenger who is talking loudly/annoyingly on the phone.